

Join the Parkinson's UK Involvement Steering Group!

Are you:

- a person affected by Parkinson's, a Parkinson's researcher or healthcare professional?
- passionate about involvement in research?

We are looking for new members from a range of backgrounds and who reflect the diversity of the Parkinson's community to join us.

The Involvement Steering Group:

- Champions the involvement of people affected by Parkinson's in research
- Shapes our Patient and Public Involvement (PPI) programme
- Helps to develop resources to support researchers and volunteers

About the role:

- Flexible, home-based
- Monthly meetings via video-conference
- One (optional) face-to-face meeting each year

Patient and Public Involvement (PPI) is when researchers and people affected by conditions work in partnership to plan, design, manage, evaluate and communicate about research.

"Personally, getting involved in research has given me immense satisfaction to know that I can make a difference and give something back."

Matthew, Involvement Steering Group member

For more information or to apply, please email us at researchinvolvement@parkinsons.org.uk